"Tente en el aire" was a term reserved for the in-between and undefined identity. The title therefore refers to an inability of fitting into the mathematical structure of identity based on genetic inheritance and points to the immediate flaw in the caste system.

Sol Calero's "Tente en el aire" is a large-scale work of art, created in 2018, that is on display at the Kunsthalle Lissabon. The artwork is a complex, multi-layered piece that explores themes of identity, heritage, and the human condition. It features a series of colorful, rounded shapes that are arranged in a way that suggests a sense of movement and flow. The shapes are made of a material that looks like paper or fabric, and they are painted in a variety of colors, including blue, yellow, purple, and white. The overall effect is one of a vibrant, almost abstract composition that invites the viewer to look closely and discover the many details and meanings hidden within.
